Invitation from James Partridge OBE

Founder and Chief Executive of Changing Faces

Piers Allardyce

It is a pleasure to invite you to celebrate the festive season with Changing Faces at our Candlelight Carol Concert at St Paul's Church, Knightsbridge on Tuesday 1st December 2009 at 7.15 pm preceded by a Reception at The Lanesborough Hotel, Hyde Park Corner at 5.45 pm.

Over one million people in the UK have a significant disfigurement to their face, hands or body. Living with a disfigurement in today's appearance-obsessed society can be difficult. The way in which people like me are often perceived and treated in public can be especially distressing.

Changing Faces is Britain's leading charity tackling the psychological and social challenge of living with a disfigurement. We provide counselling, advice and practical support to several thousand people of all ages and their families each year. We are also increasingly involved in improving the way that the NHS, schools and employers deal with these issues. And, as I hope some of you will have seen, our posters and public awareness work are aimed at shifting public attitudes and promoting what we call 'face equality'.

We know that with the right support and an informed, inclusive culture, people with disfigurements can and do lead successful lives.

Changing Faces relies almost entirely on voluntary donations. Your support for this Carol Concert will help us to continue to develop our services and campaigns. Thank you very much.

With very good wishes.
